

Study participation opportunity

Are you a survivor of an adolescent or young adult cancer?

We'd love to hear from you!

STUDY PURPOSE

This study examines relationships between physical activity, memory, and thinking in survivors of cancer diagnosed during adolescence or young adulthood.

You may be eligible if:

- You are at least 18 years old
- You were diagnosed with cancer between 15-39 years of age
- You have access to a computer or laptop and the Internet

Details:

- Complete online surveys (about 20 minutes)
- Complete online brain games (about 1 hour)
- Wear a physical activity monitor for 7 days
- Participate in an optional interview about physical activity
- All activities are completed remotely
- You will be paid for your time in the study

Contact Information:

For more information on IMPACT: Investigating Memory and Physical Activity after Cancer Treatment in Survivors of Adolescent and Young Adult Cancers, contact the study team at (480) 574-1369 or ARZENL@mayo.edu.

Scan or click the link now to see if you qualify – it's quick and easy!

Website: Mayo IMPACT study

