Your mailing label contains valuable information. Double-check to make sure that your name, address and zip code on your mailing label are correct. Please include your mailing label (or name and address exactly as it appears on the label) with your correspondence, as well as a complete description of the problem.

MISSING, DAMAGED OR LATE ISSUES

If you haven't received your copy by the 10th of the month (i.e., the January issue by January 10th), please notify us immediately (and include a mailing label if possible). We will replace the missing or damaged issue.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Please notify us at least six weeks before you move, so we can be sure you don't miss an issue. With your correspondence, please include your mailing label and your new address.

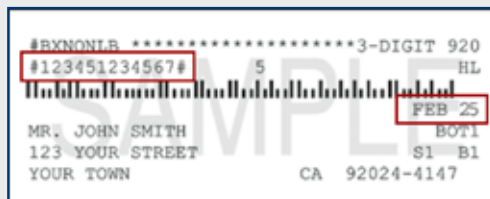

If you have two addresses, you may request to receive your issues at each address at different times of the year. Let us know what dates you will reside at each address, and we will schedule the address changes to occur automatically on those dates.

If the post office alerts us that your newsletter is undeliverable, we'll stop sending issues to that address. If we don't receive a change of address within 2 years we will have no further obligation to send issues.

HOW TO READ YOUR LABEL

The line of numbers directly above your name is your unique customer account number. This account number contains important reference numbers that enable us to locate your account quickly and accurately.

The expiration date of your subscription is indicated on your label.

Please include your mailing label with any correspondence, so that we may process your inquiries and service requests as quickly as possible.

DUPLICATE NOTICES

Occasionally, you may receive a renewal or payment reminder after you have already mailed us your reply to the previous notice. Should this happen, it probably means our correspondence has simply crossed in the mail. If you receive another notice after you have sent in your payment or renewal instruction, please contact us.

RENEWALS

We will notify you when your subscription is nearing its expiration date. To ensure uninterrupted delivery of your newsletter, please respond promptly to these notices.
